

Charis C.

Keynote Speaker & Business Coach

Charis is a speaker and coach with a background that spans from finance, law enforcement, close quarter combat, tech and entrepreneurship.

She works with teams and leaders who want to think more clearly, act with intention and lead with a wider view of the world. Her approach blends lived experience with simple, practical tools that shift how people see themselves and the people they serve. Charis also supports emerging voices, where she explores perspective, confidence and steady leadership that breaks through cultural norms.
